Alliance Director—DeakinPrime

Kelly Kajewski is an Alliance Director at DeakinPrime. DeakinPrime, the corporate education arm of Deakin University, is a pioneer and leader in the development of corporate education partnerships with organisations in Australia, reaching over 50,000 people in work each year.

Kelly is a learning and development professional with experience in consulting and education environments, both in Australia and overseas.

Prior to joining DeakinPrime in 2008, Kelly worked for RMIT University where she was responsible for delivering courses across the School of Business. This position involved managing a business simulation, developing a course for international delivery and annual guest lecturing at two Chinese Universities.

Kelly also has experience working in a consulting environment including collaborating on a project for the Australian Defence Force where she was involved in building business relationships, designing and monitoring business processes and identifying staff training needs. She has worked in London's banking sector at Merrill Lynch, Deutsche Bank and Barclays Capital.

Kelly's education has included a Bachelor of Business, Certificate IV in Assessment and Workplace Training, Graduate Diploma in Industrial Education and Training, and Masters of Education. She has recently completed a Graduate Certificate in Career Education and Development.

As an Alliance Director at DeakinPrime, Kelly is responsible for advising and integrating corporate education solutions such as tailored leadership development programs and award program pathways.

Since being with DeakinPrime, Kelly has worked with a number of organisations in Australia, China and India. She specialises in developing leadership capability and workforce development initiatives. Her projects have included designing leadership programs for several large companies and creating competency frameworks for two large government departments.

Kelly's professional interests include exploring emerging learning and workforce development practices, in particular how formal and informal learning can be used to embed learning into the workplace.

Kelly holds a Kirkpatrick Four Levels Evaluation Certification, and is a member of the Australian Human Resources Institute and the Career Development Association of Australia.
